

Andrew Dixon CCLP, ICD.D

*Chief Operating Officer
Saint John Port Authority*

Andrew Dixon was appointed as COO of Port Saint John effective April of 2022.

Since joining the Port team in 2004 as Vice President, Trade and Operations, Andrew has consistently had responsibility and leadership in the area of strategic business development, and through the years this was coupled with Port Operations and Engineering. Andrew was promoted to Senior Vice President in 2011 and has actively participated in port leadership and strategic planning in conjunction with the Board and CEO.

Current responsibilities involve all areas of Port Operations and Business Development including marine operations, facilities maintenance, and Safety and Security as well as cargo, container, cruise, and real estate leasing and acquisition.

Andrew holds a bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) from UNBSJ, and is a CITT certified logistics professional (CCLP). He also has been an instructor of Integrated Logistics at NBCC, as well as recently completing the requirements for (ICD.D) certification from the Rotman School of Business. In 2010, he was honoured to receive the CITT Award of Excellence for lifetime achievement in the field of Logistics.

Having served on many Boards and Committees over the years, Andrew is currently Chair of the Association of Canadian Port Authorities Cruise Committee, Chair of the Fundy Trail Parkway Authority, and Vice Chair of the Fort LaTour Development Authority.

In his current role, with over a quarter century working in the port community, Andrew is keenly interested in all facets of Port Development, particularly in the areas of Cruise, Containers, and Cargo, while focussing on the port being an example of efficiency and excellence in both operations and safety/security. He emphasizes the quality of labour, management, and oversight in all areas of the Port of Saint John and enjoys the diversity that each day brings!

Andrew Dixon is a native of Saint John, New Brunswick and resides in Rothesay with his wife Barbara. He is an avid motorcycle enthusiast and thoroughly enjoys outdoor activities in including time at the Dixon family cottage on Grand Lake.
